aha! this is exactly what my error was. i had assumed that the page was providing the order_id, and did not bother to include it in my inner select.

thanks! i can hardly thank you enough... i spent so much time scratching my head on this.

...just for curiosity's sake, why did this error in my code only delete one record (and not all records with the given product_id)? also, why hadn't it produced an SQL error?
