There are two ways of defining fields in the $structure array:

```
..'fields'[1][] // puts all the fields in the same line (line 1 in this example).
```

```
..'fields'[][] // puts each field on a separate line.
```

You are correct in saying that `_cm_pre_getData()` does not add the two fields to `$fieldarray`. This is done by code in `std.search1.inc`.
