Subject: Re: Unsetting Action Buttons
Posted by AJM on Wed, 13 May 2009 09:20:15 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

(1) The action buttons are set at the start of each page controller, so if you unset any in your _cm_initialise() method they will only be unset when that method is called, which is only the first time that the script is run - so on all subsequent iterations the buttons will not be unset. The best way is to use the _cm_changeConfig() method instead as this is called on every iteration.

(2) Use the _cm_changeConfig() method.