My apologies.

The first attempt at posting failed, and I had to rewrite everything. In the interim period, I mistranslated the pattern I was intending to refer to.

The pattern I am attempting to invoke was the LIST2, via the 'Generate PHP' dialogue on the child table.

I was expecting that the drop-down box would be auto-populated with an available list of related outer tables (i.e. designated parents), but this was not so.

It's here where I am wondering if I am missing something.
