Hello,

I created a subsystem, imported the database and the tables, created the tasks/menus, everything was fine.

Now I have the following problem.

In one of the task menus, the listing (list1) of the related table is working fine, but when I select a row (any one, doesn't matter) I cannot access either read or update and I receive the error message "Nothing has been selected yet.".

This happens on only one task menu (table), in all the rest the select followed by read/update works fine.

Best regards,
Dan
