Hi Tony,

can I automatically calculate a field with a method of the radicore framework?

I have three fields, amount_netto, amount_tax and amount_brutto.
I want that the field amount_brutto is calculated automatically after filling out the fields amount_netto and amount_tax.

I used to develop desktop applications in ObjectPAL, a language called Object orientet Paradox Apllication Language for the desktop database Paradox for Windows. In this language I would have put the code in an event of the amount_tax field. But in a web environment with Radicore and PHP I don't know how to do this.

Thanks in advance, best regards,

Juergen
