If you look at <http://www.tonymarston.net/php-mysql/dialog-types.html#choose.link1.list2.multi2> you will see that there are in fact 3 ways to display a many-to-many relationship, so you have to choose which one is suitable for you.

There are working examples of these alternatives in the RBAC system so you can see them in action - from the 'List Tasks' screen you will see 3 ways of displaying navigation buttons, and from the 'List Menus' screen you will see 3 ways of displaying menu items.
