If I create the task file(delete) and add the task to filepicker task I have the following prolem:

My filepicker screen has no select box and if I choose the file hyperlink the file name is written in the table field.

The controller script directs to std.delete2.inc. But:
This will delete a selection of occurrences as identified in $where (as supplied from the previous screen). Note that there is no dialog with the user.

What do I have to do to get the file deleted?

In the meantime I have a solution that only the image files of the user account and of the shared account are visible.
