There is a line of code in the TCPDF library like this: $chars = TCPDF_STATIC::pregSplit('//','u', $str, -1, PREG_SPLIT_NO_EMPTY); which is returning a boolean instead of an array. I don't know why it is doing this, so I have added the following 3 lines after it:

```
if (!is_array($chars)) { //  AJM 07/05/2024
$chars = array(); //  AJM 07/05/2024
} // if //  AJM 07/05/2024
```

The amended script is in the attached zip file. Try it and see if it fixes your problem.
